I appreciated the opportunity to review your outline of how long-range planning might be implemented at the Community level. The approach you have described is credible and consistent with my view that something beyond annual updates to the Capabilities Study is required. I believe the key to successful implementation will be to keep the substantive focus of the effort on the long term--a time period that is currently not addressed well in a Community forum. We look forward to reviewing additional details of the process as they become available.
